SRI KANYAKA PARAMESWARI

THE LEGEND OF GODDESS SRI KANYAKA PARAMESWARI

Penugonda was a flourishing city of 18 towns. It was ruled by Kusuma Chetty. Although blessed with wealth, position, health, knowledge and name he had no children. As mentioned in the scriptures, he decided to perform all kinds of rituals. His family priest Bhaskaracharya advised him to perform putrakameshtiyaga to beget a child. The activity lasting for seven days ended with the emergence of mother Parvathi from the fire pit. She blessed him with a kalpaka fruit to fulfill his longing for children. The children would be virtuous, famous and blessed with an inexhaustible spiritual treasure to guide mankind eternally.

As ordained, beautiful twins named Virupaksha and Vasavi were born to Kusuma Chetty's wife Kausumbi. Vasavi was the personification of beauty and intelligence. She was born to teach, propagate and establish the power of chastity and excellence of womanhood. She was born to end carnality, ignominious lust and inaugurate a new epoch of magnificent womanhood and chastity.

Vishnu Vardhan of Chatukya Dynasty was an emperor of indomitable valour and unquenchable thirst for power. Though he possessed enviable virtues, there were flaws. Abominable among them was his despicable lust. He had a roving eye for blooming beauties. After conquering many kingdoms in the north, he came down south to Penugonda. After a brief stay in Penugonda, Kusuma Chetty gave a farewell party to the king. It was then the king's eyes fell on Vasavamba. His look pierced with sensuality divested her of her maidenly honour and virginal purity. The king demanded the hand of Vasavamba. The elders and Kusuma Chetty were annoyed. Many supported the king's wish due to fear.

Out of 714 gothrikas, 102 were against the marriage and decided to jump into the fire pit along with Vasavamba. The 612 gothrikas were for the marriage but as it did not materialise they left the town fearing the attack of Vishnu vardhan. When her parents were in turmoil, Vasavi showed her original goddess form to her parents. She stood in the beneficent form of Mother Parasakthi with four hands, holding lotus, veena, parrot and pasa. She added " ... if any impious lustful eye falls upon woman's pure virtuous body it loses all its power and strength ... kamadarshini defiles woman's divine chastity, and leaves a scar in the spotless body". She decided to cleanse her stained impure body by jumping into the sacred fire pit. Along with her, elderly couples of 102 gothrikas also jumped into the fire pits chanting "Hail Vasavamba, long live Jaganmata".

In the meantime Vishnu Vardhan marched into the city with an army to abduct Vasavamba by force and punish all. When he entered the place he saw Mother's shining resplendent for emerging from the fire pit. On seeing her form, his sinful head broke into innumerable pieces and from that rose an effulgent flame, which finally fell at the lotus feet of the Goddess.

Goodess Vasavamba became chastity incarnate by self immolation. She demonstrated to the whole world the potentialities of Srisakti. She proved to the whole world that chastity is the prime virtue of a woman. If she had wanted she could have lived the life of a queen. Instead she valued high morals which raised her as the mighty goddess of not only the Vysyas but all Hindus. Her purity, chastity, courage, strength, steadfastness and care for community are to be well understood and cherished.

Jai Vasavi !!!
