2.5.2 - Mechanism to deal with internal examination related grievances is transparent, time- bound and efficient

Institutions have a process for students to submit their grievances related to internal and external examinations to their class incharges.

Grievance Documentation: Students submits an oral or written complaint detailing the nature of their grievance, including relevant supporting documents or evidence, such as answer sheets and question papers.

Grievance Review: The next step is to undergo a thorough review by the designated authorities who assess the validity and seriousness of the grievance.

Time-Bound Resolution: Institutions strive to resolve examination-related grievances in a time-bound manner. They typically have predefined timelines within which the grievance should be addressed. This helps ensure that students receive a timely response and the issue is resolved efficiently.

Transparent Communication: Institutions aim to maintain transparency throughout the grievance resolution process. Students are kept informed of the progress of their grievances, and communication channels are established to provide updates or seek additional information if needed.

Decision and Remedial Actions: Based on the findings of the investigation, the institution decides regarding the grievance. If the grievance is found to be valid, appropriate remedial actions may be taken, such as revaluation of answer sheets, providing additional marks, or offering a chance to reappear for the examination.

Communication of Outcome: The institution communicates the outcome of the grievance resolution process to the student, ensuring that they are aware of the decision made and any actions taken to address the grievance.

The department frames the Program Outcome, Program Specific Outcome and Course Outcome with the objectives of outcome-based education. Program Specific Outcomes define outcomes of a program which make students understand the fact for the betterment of society and its sustainability. There are statements related to graduate attributes. POs deal with the general aspect of graduation for a particular program and the competencies and expertise a graduate will possess after completion of the program. The course outcomes are stated in such a way that they can be actually measured. These outcomes help the students to understand about the programme chosen by them and where they will reach. To achieve the above attributes, the institution invites resource persons, conducts Workshop / seminars / demo classes /conferences/industrial visits, add-onCourse and NCVTE (MHRD) value-added courses which are sponsored by the Management.

2.6.2 - Attainment of Programme outcomes and course outcomes are evaluated by the institution.

The evaluation procedures:

1.Assessment Methods: IAE (25 or 40 marks) includes assignments, seminar, attendance and CIA. University exams (75 or 60 marks) assess students' performance.

Criteria: IA includes two internal tests out of three, assignments, seminar and attendance. EA is university examination.

Rubrics

For UG Level1 is 60% of the students score more than 40% marks out of the maximum relevant marks, Level2 is 70% and Level3 is 80%. For PG 50% is maximum relevant marks, rest of the conditions remains same.

Attainment of PO / PSO and Mapping is based on course attainment that is mapped with one or more particular POs and PSOs by using Formula.

3.Periodic Reviews and Feedback system are done by faculty through CIA, PTA and Mentor-Mentee system based on students' performances.

4.Faculty Involvement is crucial in evaluating and communicating the students' performance with their respective stakeholders.

5.External Evaluation or Academic audits is done by assessing the PO to meet the established standards.

6.Data Analysis approach helps in refining teaching methods and curriculum to identify strengths and areas for improvement from students.

7.Continuous Improvement is required only if outcomes are not met and institution assesses the root causes and implements necessary changes to improve learning experience.

8.Student Feedback provides valuable insights into the effectiveness of the program.

9.Program Reviews assess overall effectiveness of the curriculum, teaching methods, and learning outcomes.

The evaluation process ensures institution's quality education through their aligned programs and courses with their intended outcomes.
